EPISCOPAL SCHOOL OF DALLAS

YOUTH PASSES SO QUICKLY. BUT
THE TEMPER OF MIND AND SPIRIT
FORGED DURING THESE YEARS MUST SERVE A LIFETIME.

Chrysalis: the third stage in the development of the butterfly.

Just as the butterfly emerges from a modest beginning, Episcopal has emerged in 1986 from its beginning of eight students in one room at St. Michael's to a respected preparatory school of 425 students. The physical plant, too, has undergone a series of transformations from the cramped quarters at Lovers Lane to Phase I on Merrell, to Phase II, the commons and the main classrooms, and finally to Phase III, the new Gill Library and the Fine Arts Complex.

However, a school is more than impressive facilities. A school grows because of its composition of a unique student body that is dedicated to excellence. The Episcopal School of Dallas has emerged from its beginning stage to its own chrysalis stage: a stage of beautiful new buildings, optimum enrollment, and an experienced faculty.

Ellis Bishop, Colin Lardner, Mike Lewis, Elliott Etheredge: "Howdy, boys. Y'all come here often?"

"Shock a WHAT??"

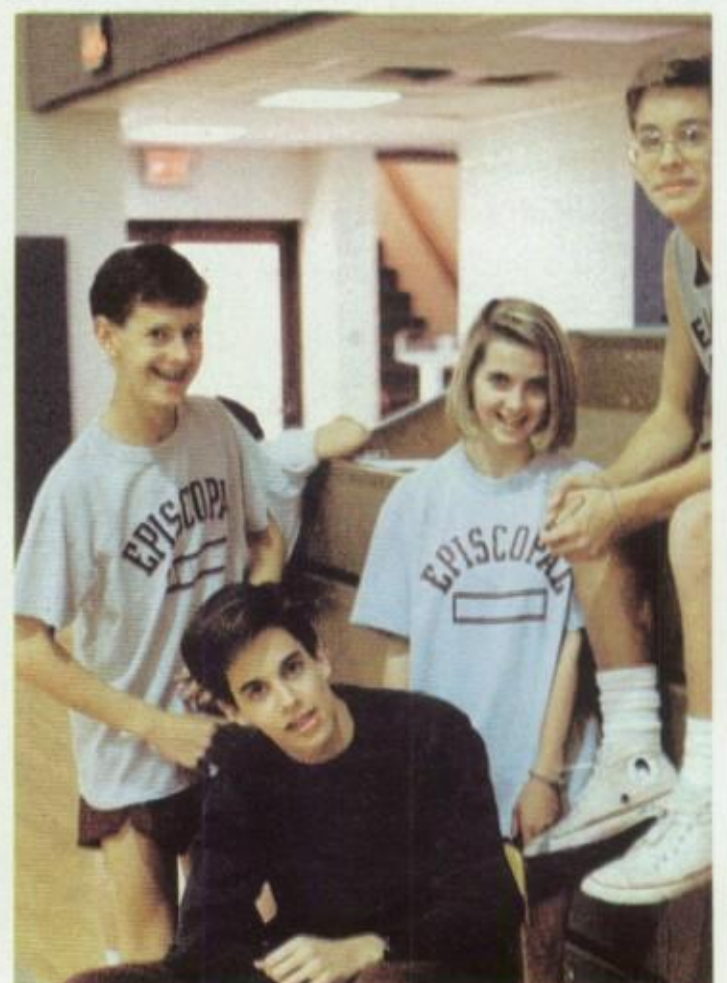

"Slow down!" yells Kurt Meachum to Middle School Student Council members.

David Martineau, Jimmy O'Neal, David Frank, Keri Scholtz: "We've got SPIRIT!"

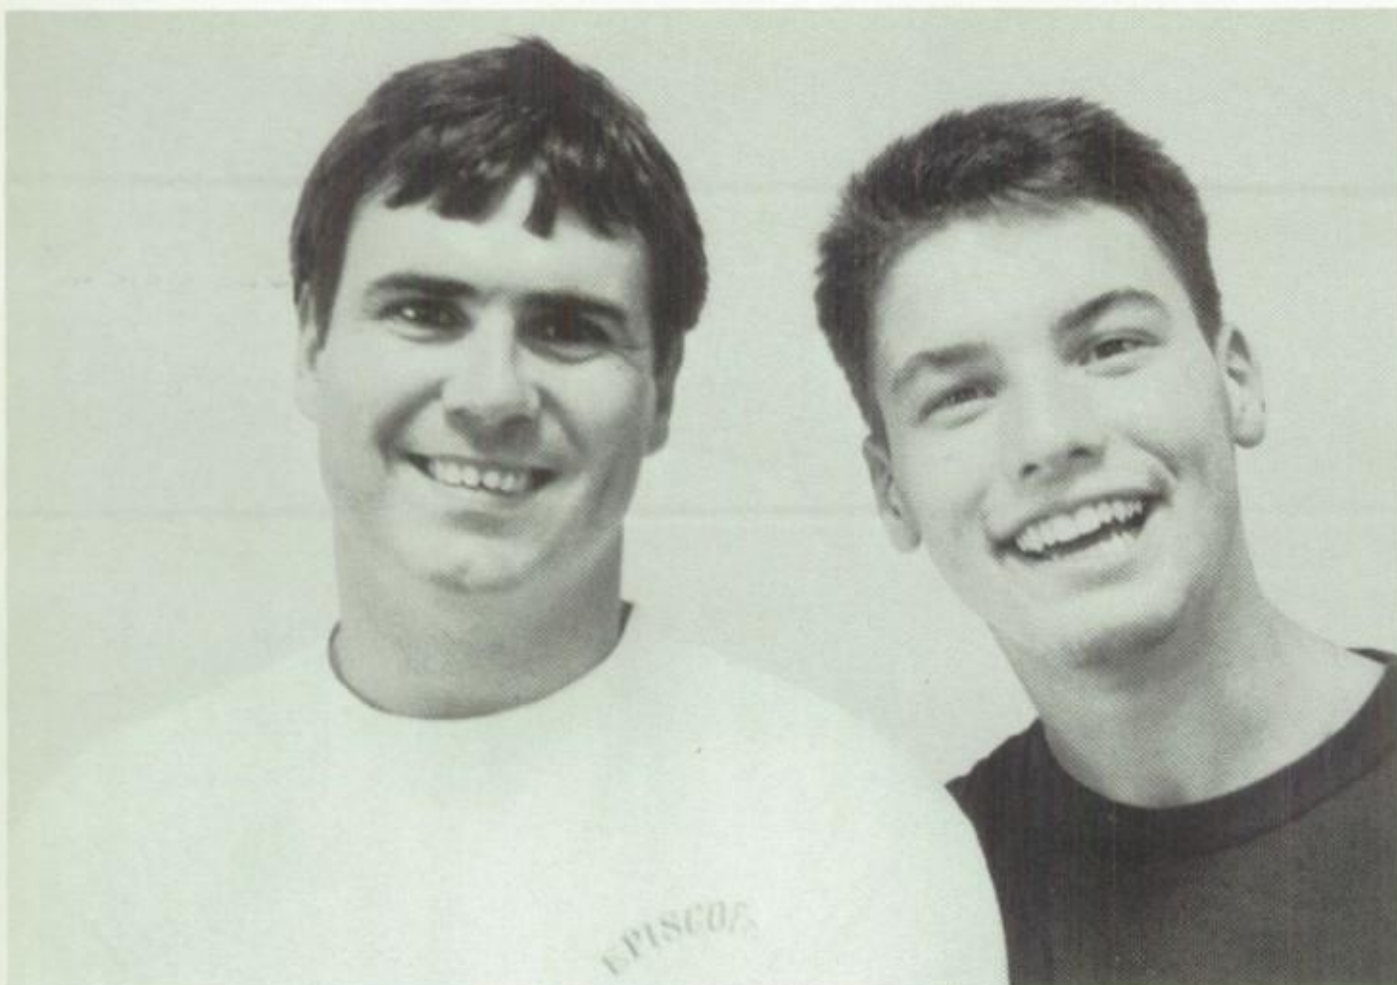

Leanne Ellis, Alessandra Jacks, Anne Tierney, and Karen Smilack: "In just two weeks, you, too, can lose 37 pounds."

Scott Iles, Julie Wallenstein, Matt Irwin, and Beau Caldwell: "Call today for a free membership at the ESD spa."

Coach Eddie Eason and Scott Gilmore, "My Hero!"

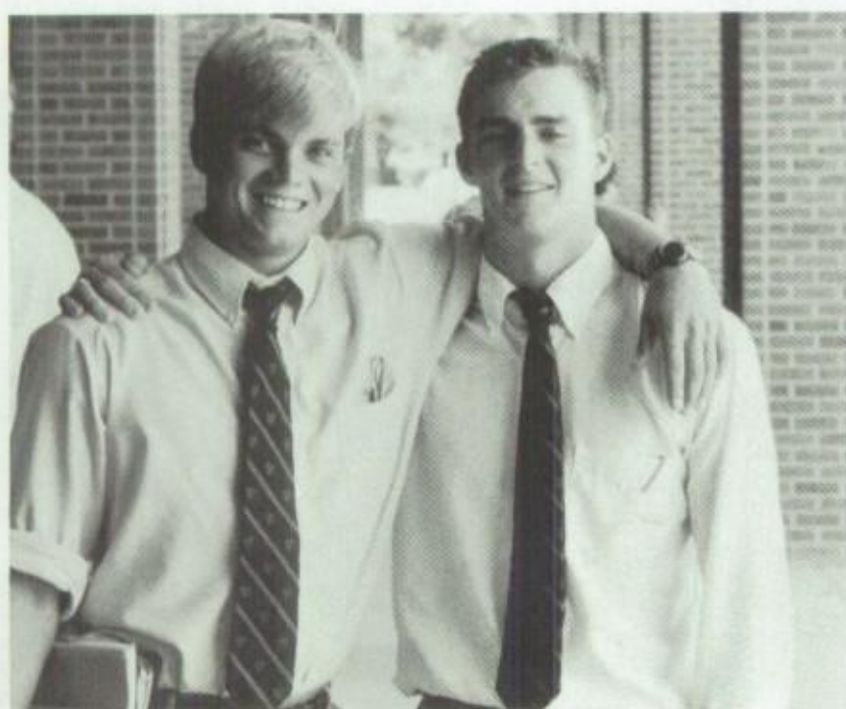

David Livingston and Mark Living

SENIORS

ON BEING A SENIOR

Definition of a senior — "a person who is on top of the world and everyone else is an inferior being."

— Bo Conrad

"Being a senior is the first step of total confusion for the rest of your life."

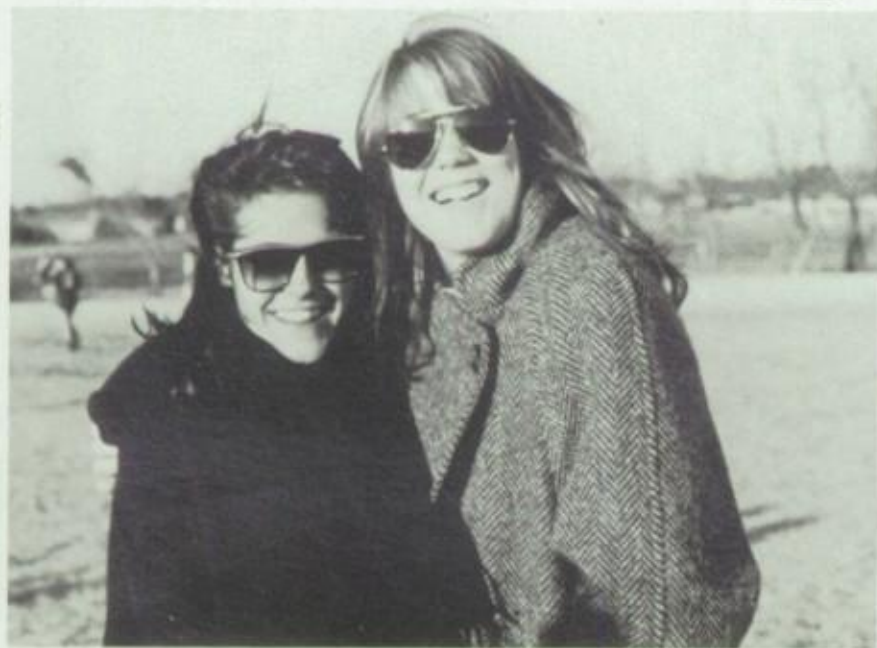

— Beall Carothers

"It is difficult to tell the seniors from the teachers."

— Baron Quintana

"Senior year is a huge basket full of emotions topped with a bow of stress!"

— Amy Goldstein

The Class Of 1987

Class officers: Beall Carothers — Pres.; Margaret Ryder — V. Pres., Scott Watson — Treas.

The Senior Class of 1986-1987 was an extraordinarily talented group of individuals who excelled in many areas. The class sponsored many activities including big brother — little brother, big sister — little sister ties between seniors and freshmen and various projects with the fifth grade class including making Christmas tree ornaments for the school Christmas tree, the joint singing of Christmas carols to the Upper School during lunch, and last, a Valentine's party for the St. Phillips School. The year was a great success, for according to seniors, "It was fun to walk down the halls and let everyone know that you were seniors at last."

Secretary Kelly Denton missed the officer picture because she fell asleep taking the minutes.

Baron Quintana, Scott Watson, Diane Knuths: "We use Pearl Drops."

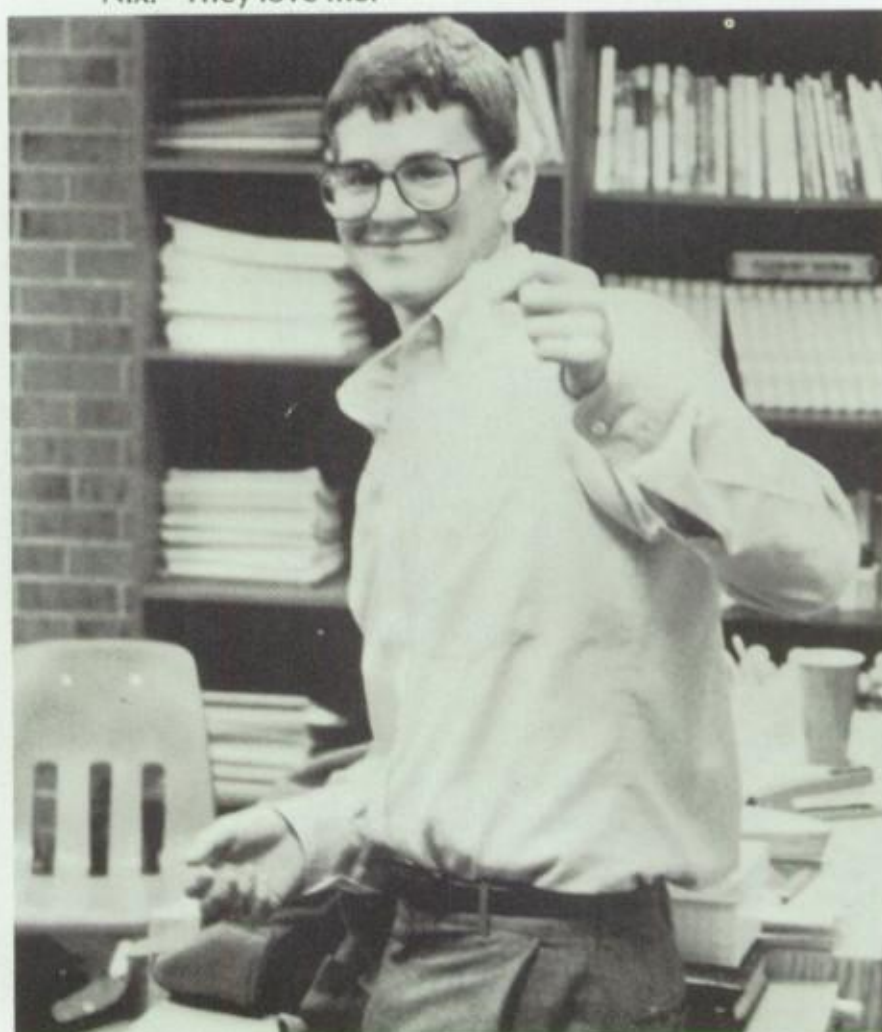

Bo Conrad and Sabeel Fatehdin: "Heavy metal rules."

Michelle Kallail, Kenneth Goodwin, and Gretchen Nix: "They love me."

Shawn Burke and Kenny Sharpe are on the warpath.

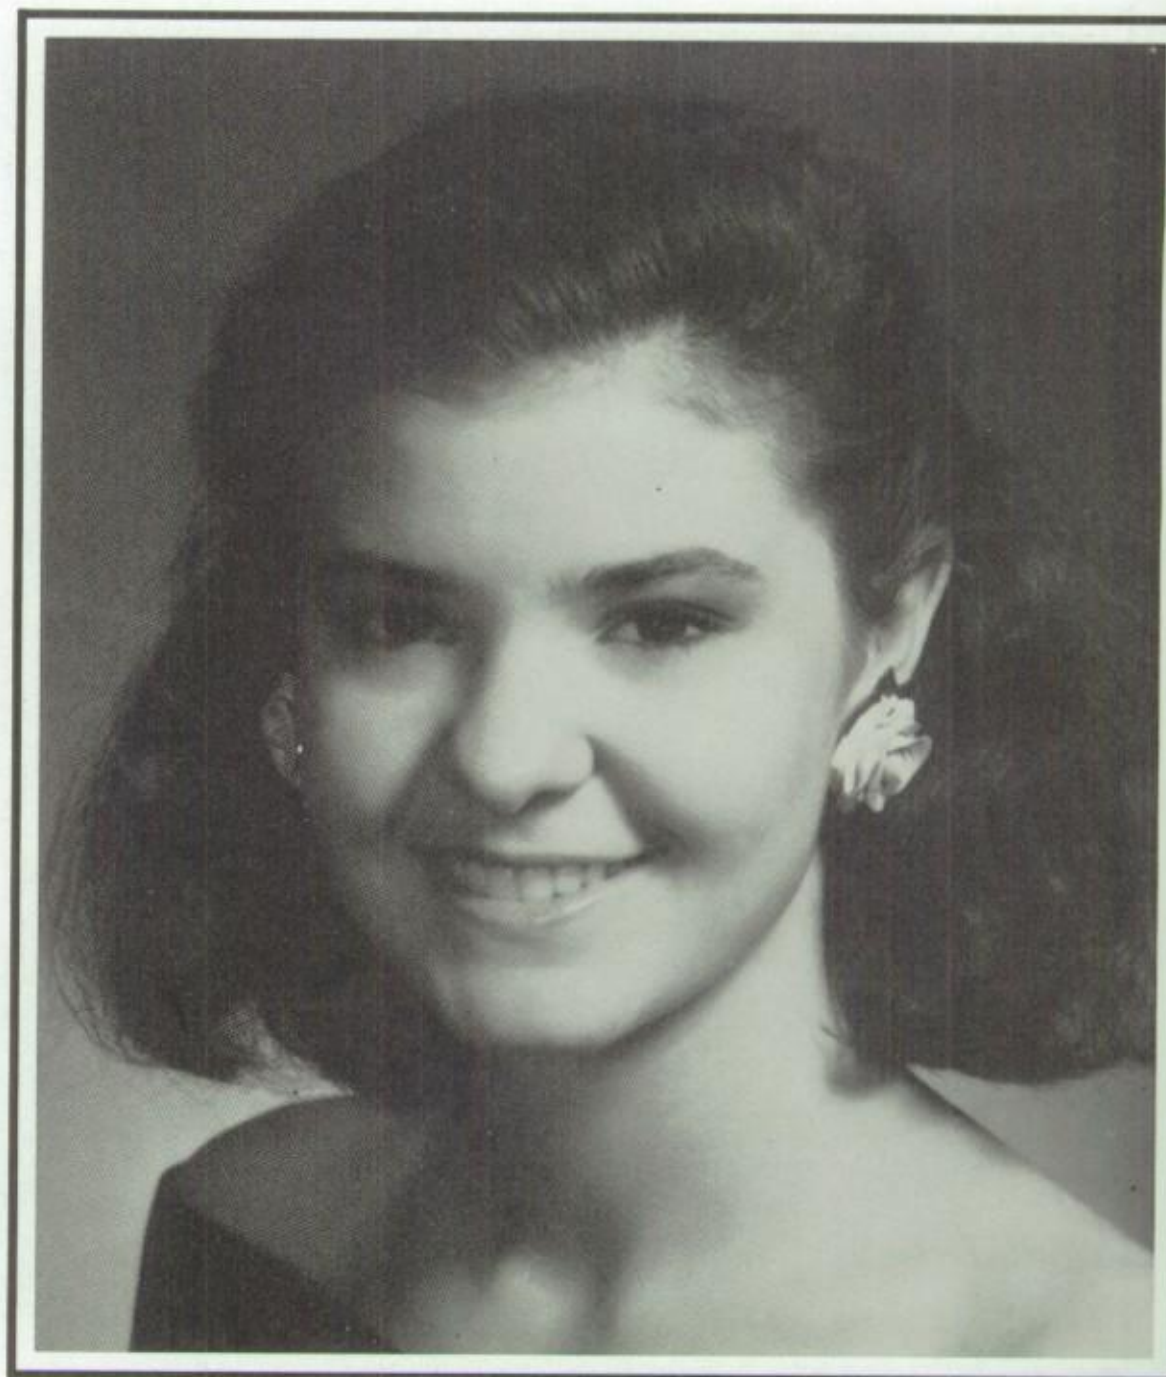

Dan Lowenberg: "Is today my birthday?"

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness.

The Unanimous Declaration of the thirteen United States of America

Exultant

The Unicorn is happy in perfect harmony,
Wild and frolic is in his melody
Trouncing through the forest,
Angels lead the path.
Peace is sure in his way.
He's got the life with laughs.

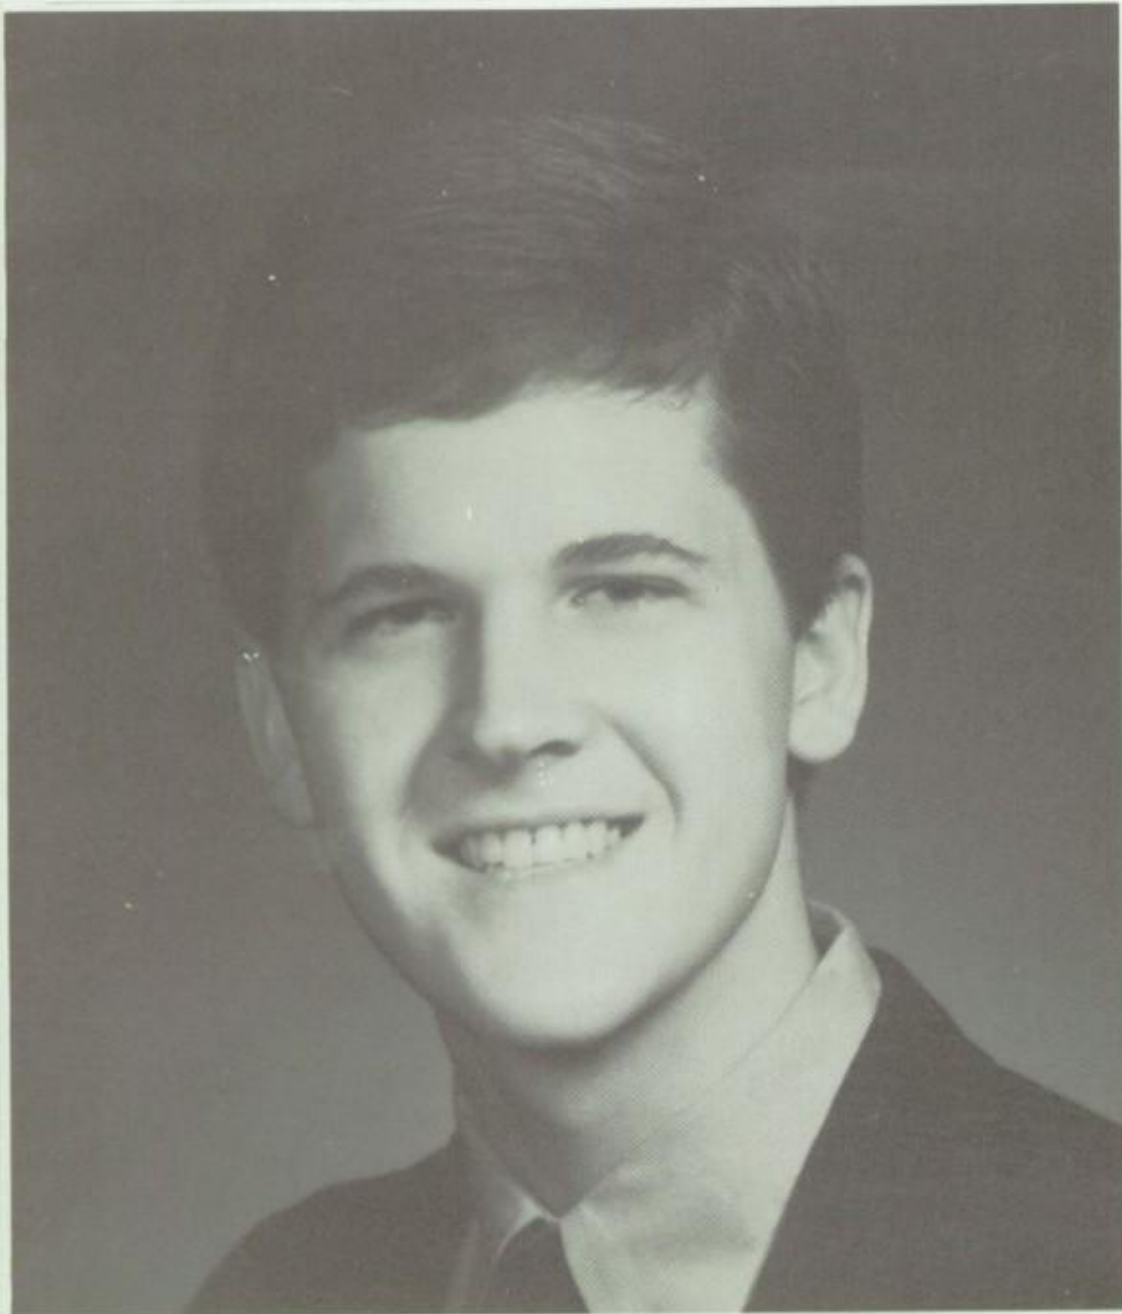

Echo in the valley,
For in the morning, the Unicorn calls.
Dew-laden grass fields,
Create his placid entrance halls.

Ambrosia is his feast,
Flowers the jewelry of this majestic beast.
Hurdling into this world, he lives fearlessly.

Life is an escape for him,
To go and do what nobody began,
You are the Unicorn my friend,
Jump and exalt whenever you can.

M.R.E.

My Favorite Limericks

There was a young lady of Niger
Who smiled as she rode on a tiger;
They returned from the ride
With the lady inside,
And the smile on the face of the tiger.
Anon.

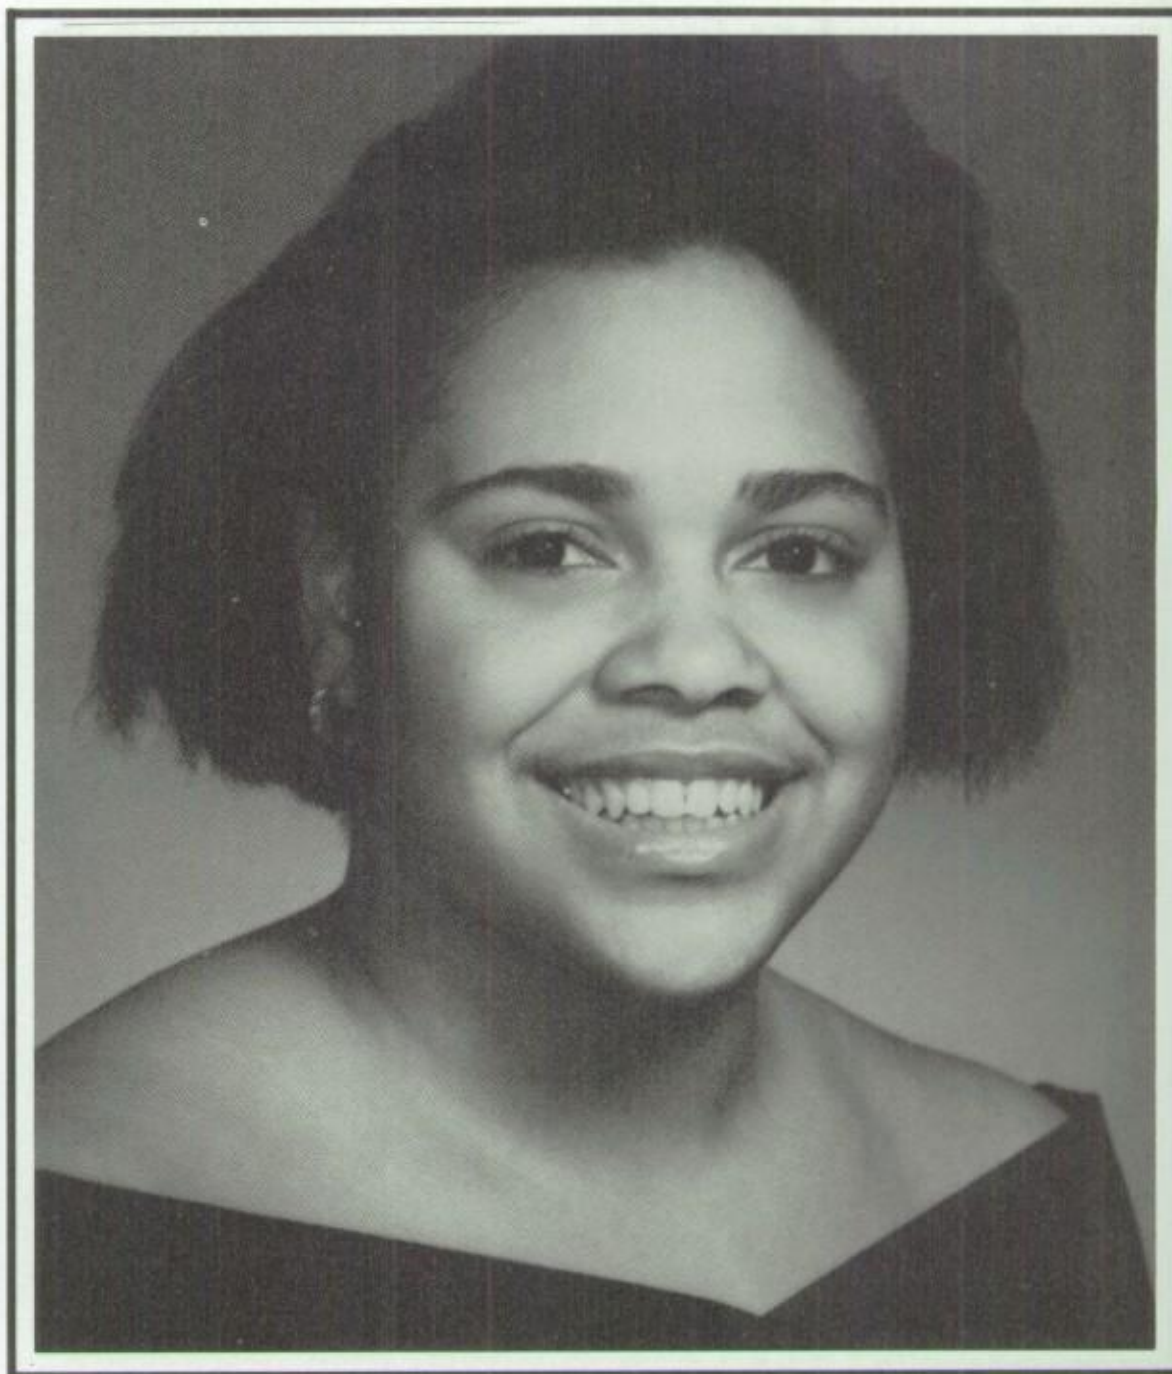

There was once a young lady of Ryde
Who ate a green apple and died;
The apple fermented
Inside the lamented,
And made cider inside her inside.

and Headmaster, a position which he has held for the life of the school. Those eight men and women have seen the Episcopal School of Dallas grow from the first class of seven students at St. Michael's School to a student body of nearly five hundred students. Through Father Swann's guidance and leadership the dream has become a reality.

Father Swann wears many hats. He is the Rector of the Episcopal School and, thus, serves as the religious leader of the school. As Headmaster he directs the academic affairs, and he has a key role in the development of the physical plant. He ably represents Episcopal whenever he appears before civic groups. In all these roles he must spend endless time on the phone and attend to a myriad number of details, but always he wears all his hats superbly.

LIFE

CARILLON

The 1986-87 Yearbook staff began the year by attending the Publications Workshop held at Southern Methodist University in August. Here our enthusiasm grew as we were led through "shout" sessions which were to promote spirit. The staff began working together to choose a theme for the 1986-87 Carillon, a task which required hours of brainstorming. Finally a theme was chosen that describes perfectly the 1986-87 school year.

The year was special for the Yearbook staff because of the completion of the Stage Three building. The new building allowed for more space for the staff due to the Publications Room. Once in the new room, the Yearbook staff began to work industriously on the publication of the 1986-87 Carillon.

The "yeeboo Picture"

Wendy Doreen asks Amy Goldstein, "is CONGRATULATIONS with a 'T' or a 'd'?"

David Frank in utter confusion.

Allison Smith: "Say cheese!"

Diane Knuths asks David Frank, "Is this a pica?"

Karen Smilack, Allison Smith, and Anne Tierney reminisce about past yearbooks.

Amy Goldstein tries not to panic as she counts layout pages.

Leanne Ellis: "Hee-hee, hee-hee, Ya wanna buy a yearbook?"

Martha Christian: "Now, ya'll don't get raunchy!"

EAGLE EDITION

In order to print a worthy school newspaper, journalism students must cover news stories, follow-up possible "beats", create features, lay out page designs, paste-up, and interview people. This is the day to day itinerary of the Eagle Edition staff.

Journalism I students study reporting techniques, headline rules, and the proper way to write news, editorial, and feature stories. Then these beginners quickly advance to page editors and staff writers. Second and third year students are constantly aware of the responsibility of making deadlines. These staff members are appointed to certain leading positions to help the Eagle Edition publication flow smoothly. The editors and managers in control apply their skills and experience to publish a fresh, creative newspaper.

After the actual newspaper has been printed and distributed, the staff is relieved only temporarily, because they must start working again to publish the next issue.

Mrs. Meier prepares the Eagle Edition staff for the next deadline.

Kenny Sharpe and Jennifer Hodson, aspiring journalists.

ITINERARY

Once again the elite organizations of EDS put together an award-winning Itinerary. Filled with action-packed stories, poems, vignettes, and visual artistic expressions, Itinerary was the top cultural and social publication at ESD because it revealed the creativity of the ESD family. Submissions came from upper and middle school students, faculty members, and students in the creative writing class.

Activities of the Itinerary staff included an excursion to the SMU Literary Festival, a workshop with Naomi Nye, and the first ESD Literary Festival. It is hoped that the ESD Festival, which included reading by students, teachers, and professional poets, will become a tradition at the school.

Mrs. Hillyer presents plans for the 1987 Itinerary.

1987 staff: Row 1: J. Gilliam, D. Sheider, S. Henley, B. Conrad, Mrs. Hillyer, B. Criswell, J. Thompson, K. Scholtz, K. Kibler, R. Rendleman, K. Morelock. Row 2: J. Kasmir, E. Oglesby, M. Khoury, S. Watson, B. Quintana, D. McCoy, E. Elliott, M. Miller, R. Conrad, J. Penny

Scott Watson and Scott Henley discuss the latest contributions to the Itinerary.

"Quo vadis?"

Who was it who claimed that Latin is a dead language? Once again the Junior Classical League has proven that the Latin language is thriving in the ESD community. JCL is a national organization dedicated to the preservation of our Latin heritage and is composed of all Latin students. This year's fund raising activity, the Romanus Cibus and Bits cookbook, netted enormous sums of money and graced numerous households with an impressive compilation of delectable recipes, all of Roman origin. The profits were used to finance the club's participation in district and state competitions and for the annual Roman Banquet, a simulated festival in the Emperor's palace.

ACOLYTES

The Acolytes are a special group of students who serve during all school Eucharist every Wednesday. Mr. Donaldson was the sponsor of the Acolyte Club, which has grown this year to the largest number of students since its inception. The acolytes were honored during chapel on January 27 with wooden crosses carved by Mr. Donaldson. The crosses with maroon ribbons were given to acolytes who had served for two or more years; crosses on gray ribbons went to the acolytes who were serving for the first year.

THEATRE GUILD

The Theater Guild is composed of students who enjoy participating behind the scenes of drama productions. These students build sets, operate the lights, locate unusual costumes, apply make-up, and assist the directors and actors in many other ways. A new project for the Guild, performing in chapel, will provide an opportunity for more students to display their creativity.

WHIZ QUIZ

What is the state bird of Indiana? The answer is the Cardinal. This is just one type of question that members of Whiz Quiz must ponder weekly. The students competed with such schools as Newman-Smith, Lake Highlands, and Selwyn. Even though E.S.D. did not have a winning year, the members learned valuable lessons and increased their mental capacities.

Row 1: Mrs. Fomby, H. Ikerd, J.R. Schroder, S. Henley, K. Lindh, S. DeArmond Row 2: T. Brannon, D. Sheider, T. Baird, D. McCoy, P. Low, Ms. Wagenbach

STUDENT COUNCIL

A. Wedding, C. Robertson, W. Maedgen, N. Taylor at the Student Council car wash

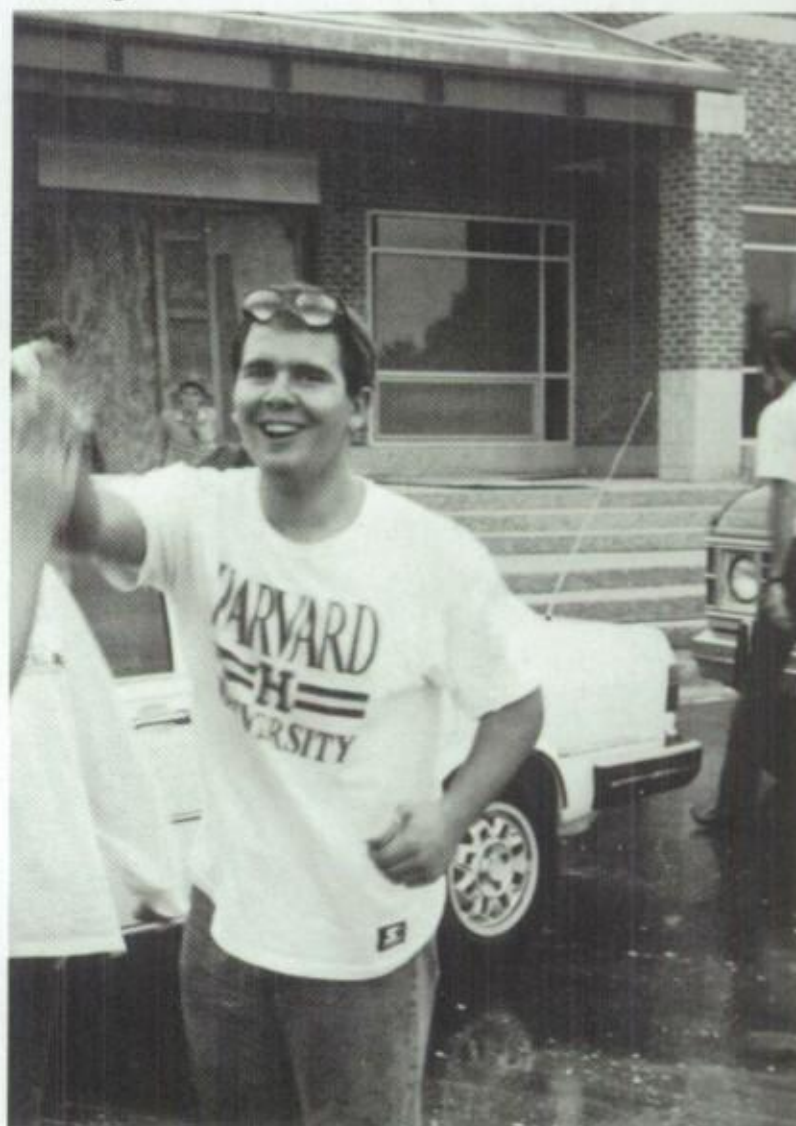

The 1986-87 Student Council led by President David Martineau, Vice-President Stephanie Marquez, Treasurer Chris Lagow and Secretary Dusty McFaul enjoyed a year full of fun, hard work and many accomplishments. In the beginning of the school year, the Student Council held a car wash which raised $200. The profits went to the sponsoring of the Christmas Dance which was a great success. Among the projects for the spring semester were the Adopt-a-grandparent project and the Carnival which both involved the student body of the community. The Student Council had a very Challenging yet enjoyable year.

THESPIANS

The Thespian Society is a national organization consisting of dedicated actors and actresses who acquire points through their involvement in the various productions throughout the year. Points were earned by members of the cast either by acting in a show or by being involved with the technical aspects of a production.

Thespians are responsible not only for the drama productions and the musical but also for ISAS Fine Arts Festival and Fine Arts Week.

Spirit Club

The Spirit Club, the largest club in the school, was responsible for the large enthusiastic crowds at Episcopal games during the year. Their first activity of 1986 was sponsoring a very spirited pep rally in which seniors expressed their support — by painting their faces and wearing spirit hats. For the first time members sold spirit ribbons and buttons and selected a boy and girl yell leader from each class.

Spirit Club Officers: Wendy Doreen, Pres., Chris Rosen, Sec.-Treas., Melissa Curry, V.Pres.

Sophomores raise their hands because they are sure.

Juniors exclaim: "Get it, Get it, Got it, Got it, Uh, and let it roll!"

THE IMPORTANCE OF BEING EARNEST

The middle school drama students dedicated their fall production, The Importance of Being Earnest by Oscar Wilde, to the late Kevin Huheey who during his years at Episcopal was a part of every middle school production, even as an upper school student. Like the characters in this play, Kevin had a humorous way of reminding others about what is serious and what is trivial in life.

MASH DANCE

4077 Mobile Army Surgical Hospital — MASH. You thought that it was the name of a TV show, but on September 20, 1986, it was the theme of a Parents' Association sponsored dance. The Commons was transformed into an army hospital, and the students were appropriately dressed in their best camouflage. The band, The Fabulous Has-Beens, kept the crowd dancing until MASH was finally closed.

Deck the halls with boughs of holly, fa-la-la-la-la-la-la-la. The Upper School Student Council decked the Commons with boughs of holly for the annual Christmas dance, held on December 13, 1986. The girls decked themselves with taffeta and velvet, and the boys, with tuxedos. Several of the senior girls added to the excitement of the evening when they appeared in tuxedos instead of dresses. The band provided dance music for the students to liven their holiday spirit which was further enhanced by the approaching Christmas vacation.

MARDI GRAS DANCE

The Parents Association sponsored a Mardi Gras dance for the Upper School on January 31. The students dressed up in all varieties of costumes from a smurf to Cleopatra. The students with the best costumes were awarded a $10 gift certificate for Sound Warehouse. Among the winners were Gretchen Nix who was a smurf, Colin Lardner, Chris Rosen and Nelson Taylor who were the Three Musketeers, and Chris Elliston and Mike Lewis who were the blues Brothers. The Mardi Gras Dance was a great success and the students really enjoyed the opportunity to dress up in outrageous costumes.

1987 Film Symposium

"A Man For All Seasons" was the film selected for this year's Film Symposium Day. Students and faculty loaded buses on the morning of April 8 and rode to the Inwood Theater. The theme for the day was Elizabethan, and students did their best to dress in Elizabethan attire. After the movie everyone returned to school and divided into groups to discuss various subjects relating to the movie. After lunch the Upper School enjoyed several monologues and skits presented by students in the Drama Department. The skits all pertained to certain aspects of Elizabethan life. The final event of the day was an outdoor chapel service by the quarry.

UPPER SCHOOL FINE ARTS NIGHT

Upper School Fine Arts Night was held on Saturday night, May 2. The art and photography students were busy the week before setting up their work throughout the halls of the new Fine Arts complex. That evening the drama students performed many skits and monologues. Some of the talented vocalists performed solos. During intermission refreshments were served, and guests were invited to walk through the new building to view the art and photography. The evening came to a close with an awards ceremony; there were several categories in art and photography in which students received awards. Mrs. Bienwenga gave each of the senior drama students a rose in appreciation of their hard work.

Independent Schools Association of the Southwest, known as ISAS, was held at The Kinkaid School of Houston April 9-11. Sixty-one Episcopal students traveled on a "Go Big Red" bus to Houston on Thursday, April 9. The students arrived late Thursday afternoon and attended various performances. Then they were bussed back to the Hyatt Regency for a few bologna sandwiches complimentary of the hotel management. At the crack of dawn on Friday morning the students arrived at Kinkaid and participated in workshops. Drama and art students of Episcopal received many honors, for the performance of "Carnival" ended with a standing ovation, and art students were given highly complimentary critiques of their paintings and photographs. A slide show closed the activities Saturday afternoon. Kenneth Goodwin and Bill Criswell summed up the weekend by saying, "It was Good!"

Phase III Dedication

Phase III was dedicated on April 24, 1987. Students, parents, and guests gathered in the Hart Gymnasium to hear an address by Albert V. Casey, former Postmaster General, and currently a Distinguished Professor, Edwin L. Cox School of Business, Southern Methodist University. Mr. Casey was introduced by W. Plack Carr, Jr., chairman of the Episcopal Board of Directors. The students and guests were then dismissed to the front of the Gill Library which was blessed by The Rt. Reverend Donis D. Patterson, Bishop of the Diocese of Dallas. The ribbon cutting ceremony was performed by Pauline Gill Sullivan, benefactress of the new library, Stephanie Marquez, Vice-President of the Upper School Student Council, and David M. Munson, former Chairman of the Board of Directors. After the ribbon cutting ceremony students and guests assembled in the Commons and in the Gill Library for refreshments.

HONORS ASSEMBLY

The Episcopal Honor Society was established last year; the first members were members of the classes of 1986 and 1987. The tradition continued this year at a special assembly held on March 18, 1987 to announce the new members. Five seniors and six juniors were inducted based on their grade point average. The inductees were honored at the assembly by Fr. Swann who stressed the importance of the society and the honor it brings to the school. The officers of the 1986 society were Diane Knuths, Pres., Blake Estess, Vice-Pres., Jennifer Williams, Sec.-Treas. Members of the group provided a tutoring service for students who needed extra help, and they also sold egg rolls at Wednesday lunch in order to pay for the pins presented to the new members at the special assembly.

SPECIAL ASSEMBLIES

Dr. Kenneth Cooper was the fourth speaker in the Megan Girard Allday Lecture Series, an annual event for the entire school and its guests honoring a former student, Megan Allday. A pioneer in the field of physical fitness, Dr. Cooper has developed an aerobic exercise program that stressed disease prevention through proper exercise and diet. He urged Episcopal students to begin now a disciplined physical and nutritional program for a healthy, balanced life.

VISITING AUTHORS

For the last three years Michelle Randall, librarian at Episcopal, has brought outstanding writers of young adult books to meet with middle school students. These guest writers give the students an opportunity to learn about a professional author's own writing methods and experiences. Bill Wallace, Texas Bluebonnet Award winner, visited with fifth and sixth graders and related in a humorous way all the problems he had to get his first book published. The seventh and eighth graders enjoyed hearing the experience of William Sleator, science fiction writer.

Kevin Michael Huheey Literary Festival

The Itinerary staff sponsored the first Kevin Michael Huheey Literary Festival the week of February 23-27. Named in memory of a former Itinerary member, the festival brought together professional poets and writers as well as student writers. Dallas poet, Tim Seibles, and Texas poet, Naomi Nye, from San Antonio presented readings of their poetry. Dallas author, Prudence McIntosh, entertained the students with a chapter from her latest book, Retreads. The readings by students from St. Mark's, Hockaday, and Episcopal marked the first cooperative literary venture among the three schools. The festival was a great success and will become an annual event.

Elizabeth Elliott, Mrs. Hillyer, Baron Quintana, Bo Conrad, poet Tim Seibles, Scott Henley, and David McCoy are ecstatic over the first literary festival.

The wilderness program, one of the first traditions established at Episcopal, was restructured this year under the enthusiastic direction of Miss Kate Belknap and Mr. John Harris. Their goal was to teach not just camping skills but the life skills of cooperation, teamwork, responsibility, and self-reliance as well. Before going on a wilderness trip, 9th grade students participated in an intensive 9 week training class; then they made the basic plans for food and equipment for their trip and also mapped the routes and planned activities. Rock climbing, winter camping, mountaineering, and canoeing were the trips offered during the year, and for the first time students had the option to initiate and carry out an expedition of their choice.

M/S STUDENT COUNCIL

The Middle School Council is a unique organization, for there is not a central president, vice-president, or secretary-treasurer. Instead the offices of each grade represent their grade and constitute the Middle School Student Council. The members are eighth graders John Engleman, Pres., Stokes McIntyre, Vice-Pres., Dorothy Moss, Sec.-Treas.; seventh graders Kurt Meachum, Pres., Reed Flashnick, Vice-Pres., Heather Hubler, Sec.-Treas.; sixth graders Jon Seib, Pres., Lisa Bowles, Vice-Pres., Sara Ripley, Sec.-Treas.; fifth graders Joey Davisson, Pres., Brian Catalano, Vice-Pres., Capera Ryan, Sec.-Treas.

BLUEBONNET READERS

The Texas Bluebonnet Book Award is a statewide reading program for students in grades 3-6. Fifth and sixth graders at Episcopal are invited to participate by reading five or more books from a pre-selected list of titles. The students must report each reading to Mrs. Randall. In January, the students who have successfully completed their reading are asked to vote on their favorite book and author. Votes are tabulated across Texas, and the winning book receives the Texas Bluebonnet Award.

ACOLYTES — MS

There was a record number of middle school students who wished to serve as acolytes during the year. In order to give each student an opportunity to serve, Ms. Coombs, the acolyte sponsor, instituted the tradition of having acolytes serve at every middle school chapel service instead of participating only during the Wednesday Eucharist. Another new tradition was begun by including middle school teachers as acolytes. Each student was presented a wooden cross when he or she was commissioned an acolyte.

MIDDLE SCHOOL FINE ARTS NIGHT

The Middle School Fine Arts Festival was an evening of outstanding drama and art. The drama department presented "Annie Get Your Gun," using an imaginative set and an enthusiastic cast. Ms. Kathy Francis directed the successful production.

Ms. Vikki Martin presented an art exhibition which charted the progressive stages of art development in children. The students were given opportunities to work with a variety of materials and techniques, building on their art knowledge from year to year. Ms. Martin said, "It was my intent as a teacher to encourage students to observe more carefully their environment and the world around them, to rejoice in color and shape for its own sake as well as for narration." Channel 4 newscaster Clarice Tinsley presented art awards to outstanding middle school artists.

Episcopal had a cross country team to be proud of. The team was coached by Jon Maupin who led the team through many victorious meets. Episcopal won 1st place in SPC, so it was no surprise that Shawn Burke and Jay Huller were named All Conference. Shawn Burke also broke the SPC record and was 2nd in the state of Texas. ESD has many talented runners; one may become the next Carl Lewis.

VARSITY TRACK

The boys' track team had an outstanding season under the direction of Coach John Maupin. Shawn Burke, undefeated in regular season, broke both the MISC and the SPC records in the 2 mile and 1 mile events. As a result of this performance, Shawn became the first Episcopal student to be invited to participate in the University of Texas Relays. Mike Simpson won second place in both the 200 meter and 400 meter runs. Jay Huller and Richard Wharton also placed in events.

The girls' track team also had an eventful season with Coach Belknap. The team placed second at MISC, and the girls' mile relay team did especially well.

BOYS' SOCCER

Kevin Albury coached his first season at Episcopal and proved to be a very enthusiastic, dedicated coach. The team started with the basics and then learned to work together as a team. The captains were Elliott Etheredge and Nelson Taylor. Episcopal was in second division at SPC, and the underclassmen on the team looked forward to being a first division team in 1987-1988.

GIRLS' SOCCER

For the second year Kate Belknap has coached a successful varsity soccer team. All the running and drills that the girls did certainly paid off when the team advanced to SPC in 2nd place, 1st division. The captains of the team were Brenda Field and Jennifer Lively who were both named All Conference at SPC.

BOYS' BASKETBALL

The boys' varsity basketball team had an exciting year with their new coach, Bill Blakely. Mr. Blakely, former coach at North Texas State, brought a new spirit to the team. The captains were Seniors Jimmy O'Neal, David Martineau, Baron Quintana, and Blake Estess. Episcopal's successful year paid off when the team won first place in SPC.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

The Episcopal girls had a productive year playing varsity basketball. Bart Wade was the coach, and the assistant coach was Mimi Nolan. David Frank was the manager, and the team co-captains were Jennifer Williams and Margaret Ryder. Everyone was excited when the team got into 1st division in SPC.

VARSITY TENNIS

The varsity tennis team had a good year with several victories of which to be proud. Kevin Albury coached the team and was assisted by Doug Diebolt, a former Episcopal player. The captains of the boys' team were Baron Quintana and Robert Williams; Wendy Doreen and Melissa Curry were captains of the girls' team. Managers, Anne Tierney and Allison Smith, recorded scores at the games.

VARSITY GOLF

Coach Greg Randall said of the 1987 varsity golf team, "Greater overall depth created more of a team effort in the major tournaments." At MISC the girls came in 1st of 4 teams, and at SPC the girls were 2nd of 9 teams. The boys' team was 3rd of 11 teams at the Dallas-Fort Worth Private School Invitational. Chris Lagow and Tom Bockholt were the No. 1 players for the girls' and boys' teams respectively.

The baseball team continued to improve under the direction of Coaches Eddie Eason and Scott Kimball; the team doubled the number of victories in 1987 over the 1986 season. The most exciting victory was the win over Trinity Valley in the final SPC game; the score was 16-12. Since twelve members of the team will be returning to play in 1988, the boys expect to have not only an experienced team but also a very competitive one.

CHEERLEADING

"Bang, bang, choo-choo train! Come on, Eagles, do your thing!" was cheered by the 1987 cheerleaders at basketball games and pep rallies. (The cheerleaders were banned from cheering at soccer games due to the distraction to the players.) The captain of the group was Melissa Curry, and co-captain was Michelle Long. The cheerleaders sported two new uniforms this year, and they performed original dances, spectacular stunts, and impressive pyramids under the direction of sponsor, Gail Roe. Squad members were Melissa Curry, Michelle Long, Leanne Ellis, Alessandra Jacks, Brandi Criswell, Anne Yarbrough, Molly Norsworthy, Deanna Boudreau, and Maria Dawson.

SENIOR PRANKS

When students arrived at school on Monday, May 18, they found the parking lot blocked with decorated senior cars, which included Bill Criswell's creative whale, and a car seat placed precariously on the wall before the Gill Library. The windows were covered with comments, and a large sign announced: For Sale — The Episcopal School. Inside the Commons students saw five cars, a large teddy bear, Sam McCall's band, and other colorful additions to the normal furnishings. Father Swann's office was also originally decorated with Resuscitator Annie in a priest's robes. In their pranks the seniors certainly demonstrated creativity!

GRADUATION

Graduation and Convocation ceremonies were held on May 31 in the Hart Gymnasium. Seniors processed down the aisle led by the Valedictorian, Brandi Criswell, and the Salutatorian, Diane Knuths. For the first time the senior class elected a fellow classmate to speak at graduation; Bo Conrad was chosen and began a new tradition at Episcopal. The Convocation address was presented by Dr. Kern Wildenthal, President, The University of Texas Health Science Center at Dallas. Father Swann and W. Plack Carr, Jr., Chairman of the Board of Directors, presented diplomas to fifty-six seniors. Also participating in the ceremonies was The Right Reverend Donis D. Patterson, Bishop, who celebrated the Eucharist for the seniors.

DEDICATION TO DWIGHT M. DUNLEVIE

The 1986-87 Carillon is dedicated to Dwight Mansfield Dunlevie. A native of Savannah, Georgia, Mr. Dunlevie attended the University of Virginia and received his B.A. from Emory University and M.A. from Southern Methodist University. After his graduation he taught for one year at the Episcopal Academy of Philadelphia, but then he decided to enter the business world. He became an insurance agent and worked for twenty-five years for Travelers Insurance.

In 1981 he returned to his first love, teaching, and began his tenure at the Episcopal School of Dallas as a Latin and math teacher. He then became Assistant Head of the Middle School while he continued to teach a Latin class. In his relationship with students

Mr. Dunlevie demonstrated a sincere interest in each child and a sense of genuine concern. Students as well as his fellow faculty members and staff particularly enjoyed his delightful sense of humor.

Perhaps in the following comments Robbie Watson, who served as Mr. Dunlevie's secretary, best defined the unique qualities that made him such a special member of the Episcopal family:

"Dwight Dunlevie has come to symbolize all that the Episcopal School embodies. His caring, nurturing manner has endeared him to this entire community.

I have come to respect him as a professional, but what is more important, his friendship is one I will treasure always."

A Note From The Editor

This year the Yearbook staff did something a little different with the yearbook. As always, we chose a theme for the book — this year one that we felt reflects the development of the school, but we decided to give the book a new look. Some readers might call it “wild,” but we hope you enjoy reading it and looking at it as much as we enjoyed putting it together. Thank you for giving us such interesting subjects to work with — I hope that you feel that this yearbook reflects the true spirit of the student body of The Episcopal School of Dallas.

I owe many thanks to the Yearbook staff of 1986-87 for doing such a fabulous job.

Mrs. Christian — Thank you for all the hours of worrying about deadlines — you made us get to work. You were the best sponsor anyone could ask for.

Amy Goldstein — Thank you for your support and patience — I needed it when the deadline rolled around and we only had ten pages done.

David Frank — Your six years of experience were put to good use. Thanks

Allison Smith — You were always prepared and ready to work — Thanks for doing such a great job.

Anne Tierney — Thank you for all your words of wisdom — Good luck next year.

Wendy Doreen — You always got things together when we finally needed them. Thanks.

Leanne Ellis — Thank you for keeping things organized. Good luck with ads next year.

Laurie Freeman — Thanks for keeping us financially stable. Don't call me when the bills come in.

Karen Smilack — Thank you for all your hard work — you were a definite help.

Kim Wilson — You were always ready to do whatever you could to help — thanks for such a positive attitude.

Amy Goldstein appears totally confused (as usual).

Wendy Doreen is doubled over with joy.

Anne Tierney and Karen Smilack relax after a hard day's work.

Dear Bill,

So, how is college? Your mom and I really miss you. We can't use the VCR "cuz you left that old "Strange Brew" video stuck in there and we can't figure out how to get it out. Did you take the channel changer with you? The TV keeps flipping back and forth between MTV and CNN every 3½ minutes. Yesterday we walked in your room at noon and no one was asleep in there. The security alarm hasn't gone off after 3:00 A.M. in months. Bonzo hasn't done anything gross behind the planters, and he walks on all fours most of the time. Not a single picture has fallen off the wall from the stereo vibrations, and we never talk to anyone wearing a guitar for more than 16 minutes in a row. There have been no infestations of strange fungi in your closet. We can actually see the carpet in your room. (Did you know it was there, under all that stuff?) In other words, it's BO-RING!

The only consolation in all of this is knowing that you are there in the library, hour after hour, night after night, surrounded by books, denying yourself all social pleasure and frivolity in the quest for learning.

So, have fun, you nob, eh?!

Luv ya much,
Dad (and Mom)

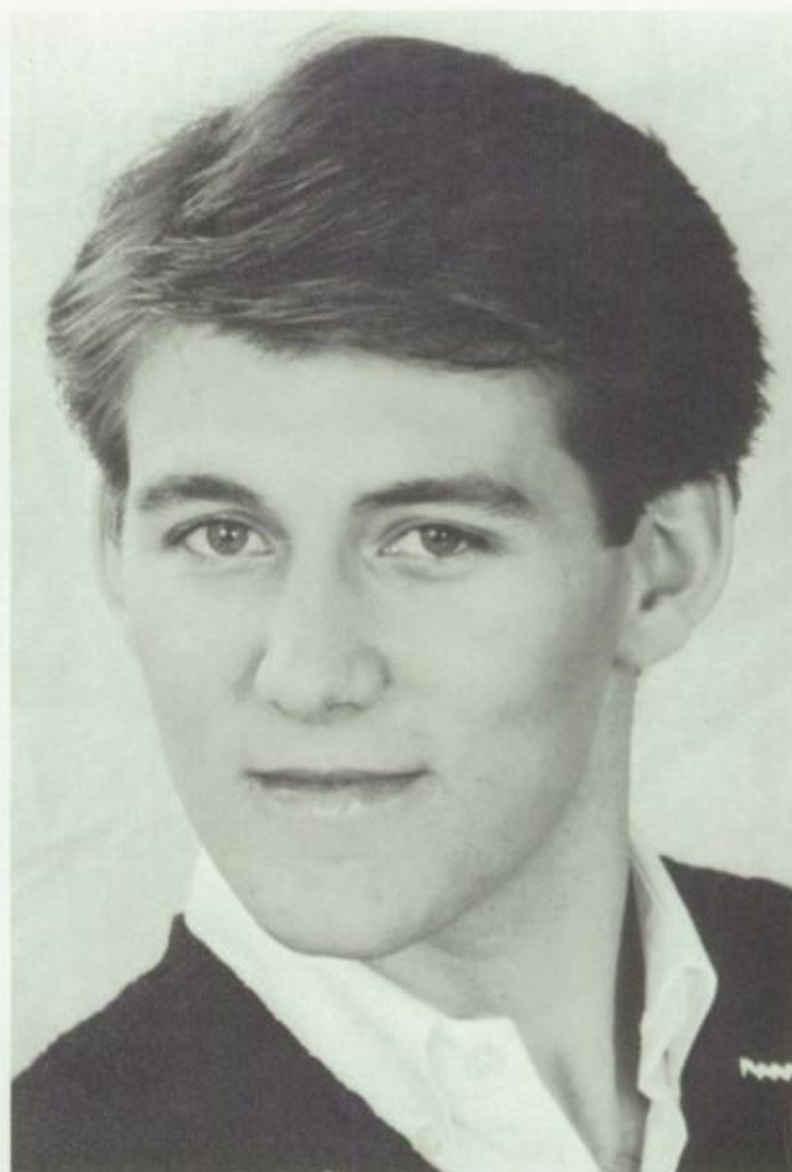

Dear Brandi,

So, how is college? Your dad and I really miss you. The phone only rings about every two hours (instead of every four minutes) since you've gone. I've totally lost track of what's happening with He-man and She-ra 'cuz nobody watches Saturday morning cartoons anymore. No culture! I haven't "lost" a single piece of jewelry or clothing in months, but nobody leaves miscellaneous jeans that fit me at the house anymore. We have completely reorganized your closet and redecorated your room in a great shade of taupe. You'll love it! I am a little worried about Bonzo. Since you left, he's grieving by expanding his bottom-of-the bird-cage diet. Think about it.

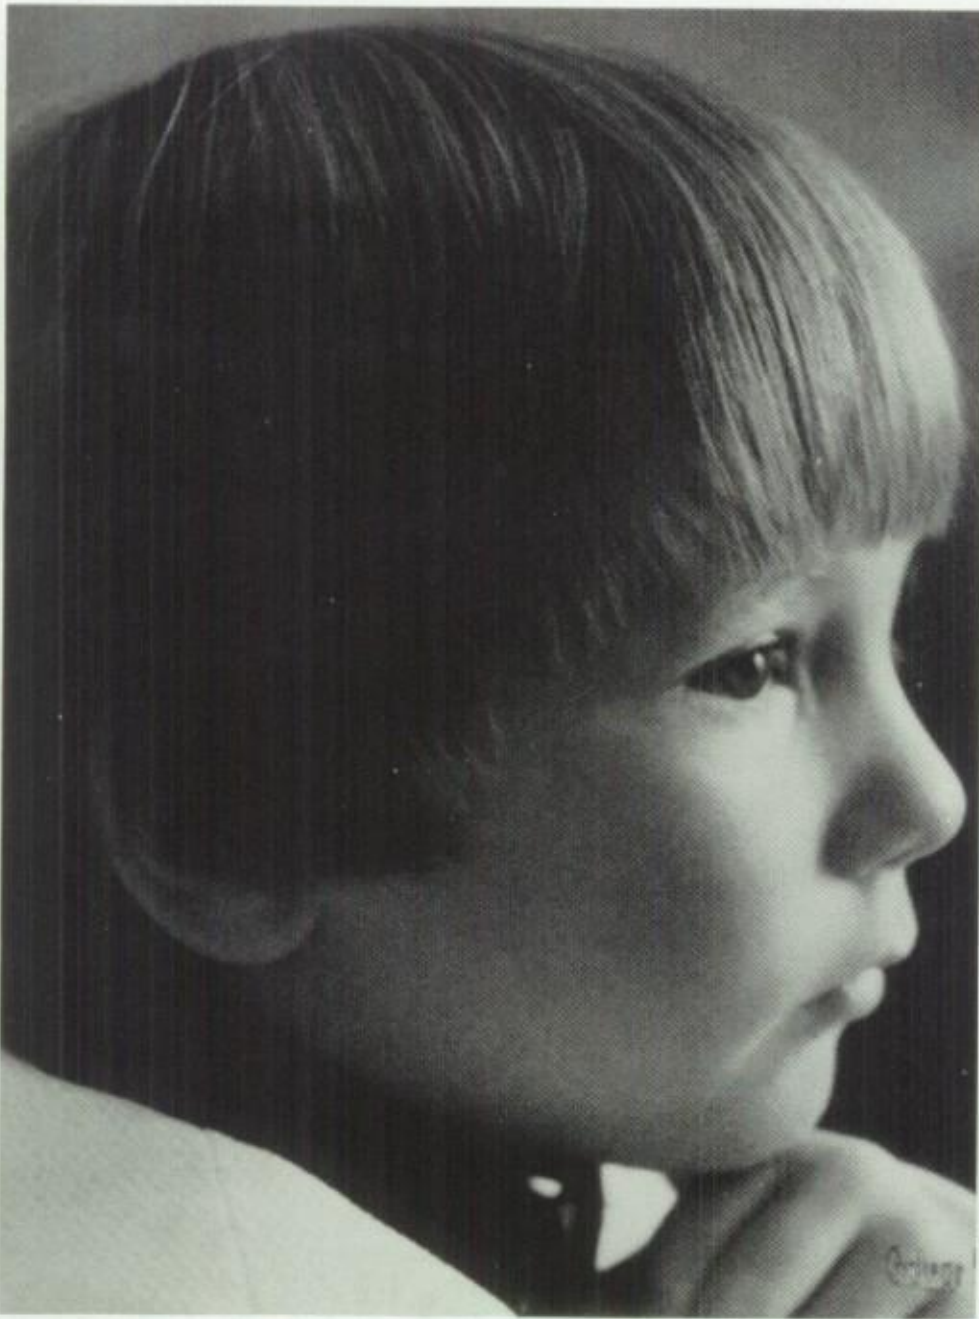

Thanks for your letter. I sent the crates of Count Chocula — have they arrived yet? How did you ever solve the problem with the six football players? How about the water polo team? How is your class in Philosophical and Psychological Implications of Hollywood Squares? Please write. Every time I call you, you're on the phone with one of those long study groups you keep telling me about.

The only consolation in all of this is knowing that you are there in the library hour after our, night after night, surrounded by books and denying yourself all social pleasure and frivolity in the quest for learning.

So, have fun, Ding!
Luv ya much, Mom (and Dad)
